The Blessing of August.

August was a month of blessings for us in Nilgiri when we brought back a treasure from the past, of course with the sincere literary efforts of our M. D Sri Rashid Gazzali sir amidst his very busy official schedule, he found time to think and to lament on the value erosion of the society and especially the students. This sorry state of affairs compelled him to walk through the corridors of history and there he found out the Tamil classic, Thirukkural which was a treasure house of all human values. His relentless efforts resulted in the publication of two books, one in Tamil and the other in Malayalam. It was on the 19th of August in Coimbatore before an August assembly of literary luminaries and university professors. It was the Hon: Vice chancellor who released the book in presence of many dignitaries including the collector of Coimbatore. The Function was well attended by a great group of teachers, PTA members and well wishers from Nilgiri. The story never ended there. The Malayalam version of the book was released on the 29 August before an audience of teachers students and the public Dr. MK Muneer the former minister and MLA and Sri Pon Jayaseelan MLA of Gudalur jointly released the book by handing over a copy to Prof. Kalpetta Narayanan the well known writer, poet and author. The hundreds of people who assembled in the Sarangi auditorium loudly applauded this great attempt of Sri. Rashid Gazzali. The speakers who spoke on the occasion praised the attempt of a humanist who wanted to bring back peace, tranquility and human love and concern for our fellow human beings bringing back the advice inscribed in the legendary Tamil classic Thirukkural. The Nilgiri family sincerely appreciates the great humanitarian deed of our MD. We are proud of you sir.

Grandparents— The Best Kind Of Grownups!

The best parents gets promoted to grandparents. Grandparents make the world a little softer, a little kinder and a little warmer. They sort of sprinkle stardust over the lives of little children. They has silver in their hair and gold in their heart. The kind of love they shower is countless and priceless. Recalling the consequential matter and gained prominence, the love for them must be wrung out.

On behalf of the 75th Independence Day celebrations of India, the Happiness Centre of Nilgiri college under Freedom Campaign has resolved to honour the grandparents of the scholars and nearby areas who're aged above 65 years. The whole NCAS awestruck on the response recieved on that day. The event was held in a grand way by the college management on 29th August from 11am onwards.

The grandparents accompanied by their well-wishers were requested to assemble at the Sarangi auditorium. They were honoured with immense respect and pleasure by Mr.Rashid Gazzali. Momentos were distributed for them. The cheeriness that came into sight from them was inestimable. Nearly hundred grandparents were hold in high esteem on the observance.

The effort laid hold by the students and staff members was priceless. It was highly appreciated by the college management. Student volunteers has worked selfless for the joy of th grownups in countless ways. They were aided throughout the program and were served with an appetising fare. The event had a net result on unfurling alertness to nurture intimacy for the beloved grandparents. Aa love is the greatest gift that one generation can leave to another, it was clearly evident the whole day. It was a red-letter day for the whole NCAS family!
