Eccentricity Meets Nilgiri College

As we celebrate our incredible teachers, we also celebrate our students' potential

In commemorating Teachers day Nilgiri college has a renowned initiative. Its aim is not just to organize a teacher's day but to impart knowledge of teaching and institutional management to the scholars. The entire campus management is restrained to the elected scholars, from teaching to superintendence of the institution.

The Managing director, Principal, Secretary and all other faculties of the college is preferred scholars on the particular day. Including library, canteen, transportation, security control and every bit of authority from dawn till dusk is held within themselves. The whole liabilities is rendered in a day advance.

To satisfy the position, the scholars can take their own decisions, sign the files, sanction new proposals on the same day. Proposals that are equally decent and reasonable for the campus and scholars are implemented even with monetary support. Nilgiri college can be placed among the singular college for authorizing students with cent percent responsibilities and the faculties becoming the co-workers on September 5 every year. The campus endures this initiative as the students and faculties are sincere, reliable and compassionate, marking the proficiency of Nilgiri College of Arts and Science.
